Protecting Butner
for more than 60 years

Since 1947, Butner Public Safety has been protecting the citizens, businesses and hospitals in this unique community. The Town of Butner, which includes numerous local, state and federal institutions, was run by the North Carolina State government until July 2007 when it was incorporated. The Town has about 7,900 residents. Butner Public Safety became a department of the Town of Butner in July 2013.

Butner Public Safety provides police and fire protection for the town, its citizens, businesses and institutions and also provides fire protection for the Butner Reservation

Butner Public Safety Officers must be trained in law enforcement and fire suppression. Butner Public Safety Officers also must understand the special populations of the different state institutions in the town.

Police

PATROL: Officers continuously patrol the town to ensure safety, protect property and prevent crime. Butner Public Safety Officers conduct crime prevention programs, talk with school students and meet regularly with civic groups.

A special unit is assigned to serve the Central Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS UNIT (CIU):

Investigates felonious crimes and other serious crimes that are not resolved by patrol. The unit is responsible for evidence collection and processing. They also participate in crime prevention programs such as the local Community Watch group and Crime Stoppers.

COMMUNITY WATCH: Meetings are hosted in the Camp Butner Room at Town Hall on the 2nd Thursday of each month at 6:00 p.m.

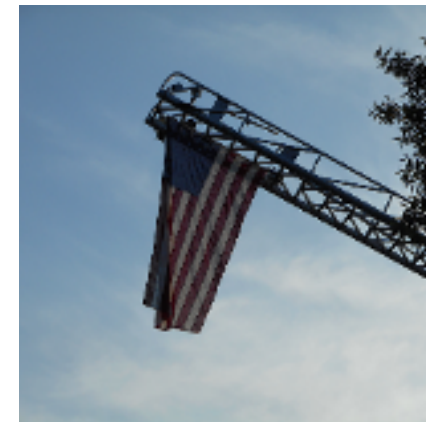

Fire

Butner Public Safety provides firefighting, fire training and fire-prevention programs to the entire community. The agency regularly conducts drills and inspections at the mental health care centers, industries and local businesses.

The officers also conduct community fire safety and education programs for area day cares, schools, churches, civic organizations, business and industries.

VOLUNTERS: Butner Public Safety has volunteer firefighters who assist the career members of the department on emergency scenes for fire calls and mote vehicle crashes. Our volunteers meet regularly and attend scheduled training. An application can be obtained at Butner Public Safety or at www.butnenc.org.
